

BIG HOTELS CHARGE FOR BREAD AT MEALS

Some Lunchrooms to Make Egg Sandwich Price 7 Cents.

Following the action of two of Washington's leading hotels in making a charge of ten cents a person for bread served with meals, a local firm which controls several lunchrooms last night announced that in the future there would be a two-cent additional charge on egg sandwiches.

These instances are the first intimation the public has had of seriousness of the food situation. Washington has been spared milk strikes owing to the prompt action of the Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers' Association in trying to establish a municipal dairy, and local bakers have not yet raised the price of bread, although in some instances the weight of the loaf has been decreased.

It is probable that other hotels will soon follow the example set by the two mentioned and charge for bread. Several managers said they lose money on some of the orders with which they serve bread.

According to one hotel proprietor, 90 per cent of the people who come into the dining room eat an order of bread and butter before their meal is served. If this meal is a breakfast and the patron orders eggs, fruit and coffee, it is served for about 40 cents. With two orders of bread and butter going with it, the hotel must enter the transaction on the wrong side of the ledger, it is asserted.

ANOTHER PLAYGROUND PLANNED FOR CAPITAL

Race Track and Picnickers' Shelters as Features.

Another play space is being planned for Washingtonians. Melvin C. Hazen, surveyor for the District, has made plans for a race track and picnic grounds west of Brightwood Reservoir, Rock Creek, at the head of Sixteenth street.

"The purpose of our department in recommending this plan," said Mr. Hazen, "is to provide a place for all manner of municipal celebrations." The place has been used for the past three years for Fourth of July celebrations. It is a natural amphitheater where grandstands will not be required. A half-mile track suitable for horse or foot races will be made in such fashion that it will be fringed by large trees. Shelters for the convenience of picnickers will be built.

The cost of creating the track and park will be about $3,000. The project will go through by the Fourth of July if the Commissioners approve.

GERMANS DEFEY BLACKLIST.

TRUTH SOCIETY STRUCK BY PRESIDENT WILSON

Executive Considers Body in Light of "Fake."

(By the International News Service.) Asbury Park, N. J., Oct. 1.—President Wilson in answer to criticism directed at him by the American Truth Society and its president, Jeremiah A. O'Leary, takes the ground that the organization is a fake institution. It can be stated with authority that this characterization of the society was made at the time that the President's reply to Mr. O'Leary's original telegram criticizing the Chief Executive's alleged pro-British policies was made public.

In that message Mr. Wilson told Mr. O'Leary that he would feel very much aggrieved if he (O'Leary) or anybody like him voted for him. It cannot be charged that this apparent political indiscretion which threatens to eliminate a sufficient number of votes to Democratic party to make defeat certain in November, was committed by a lieutenant.

Mr. Wilson was present when the O'Leary telegram and the reply were made public. His declaration that the American Truth Society was a fake organization was made at that time. On what Mr. Wilson based his opinion of the society of which Mr. O'Leary happens to be the president was not stated. He appeared to be indignant that a message such as Mr. O'Leary had sent him should have been delivered to the President of the United States.

Individuals in constant communication with Mr. Wilson assert that before making his speech at Shadow Lawn yesterday he realized he must win without the backing of the pro-German vote or the financial interests. Plainly, they say, he has set out to gain any advantage that may be obtained by defying these factions.

Mr. Wilson will leave here on Tuesday for Omaha, where he will speak on October 5. It will be his first invasion of the West.

New York, Oct. 1.—It was learned at Sheriff Smith's office yesterday that Morris H. Aschner, a private detective, was arrested the night before on a civil order obtained by Norman R. Sterne, of an importing firm at 80 Wall street.

GEORGETOWN RESORTS TO DIPS AND WICKS

Inadequate Gas Service Continues to Cause Trouble.

R. P. Andrews, 1503 Twenty-eighth street, president of the Retail Merchants' Association, yesterday received a communication from the Public Utilities Commission, saying that the recent complaint filed by him against the Georgetown Gas Light Company had been submitted to the proper authorities, and that G. E. Runyon, inspector of gas meters, is now conducting an investigation.

Mr. Andrews said last night that the gas service had not been bettered in Georgetown, despite efforts of the company to improve the situation by blowing water out of the pipes. Mr. Andrews said that if the service is not improved he will father a petition for action by the municipal government.

"We have not sufficient light to read by and many of us cannot cook because the gas range will not produce sufficient heat," said Mr. Andrews. "Last night I had to eat by candle light."

A. T. Price, a druggist, Twenty-eighth and P streets, said he was forced to use oil lamps to conduct his business.

"The pressure is too low," he said. Rev. George W. Atkinson, Jr., 3033 P street, told Mr. Andrews: "We are for your efforts to obtain better gas and more of it. The service is totally inadequate."

R. A. Bogley, 1507 Twenty-eighth street, said: "The service is pretty rotten. We don't have enough to cook by. The quantity and quality of the gas is inferior. I can't light more than a few of the rooms in my house at one time. If more than a few jets are turned on, all of them go out. This low pressure might cause asphyxiation."

SAVED BY HUMAN PULMOTOR.

Rescuer Braved Asphyxiation to Save Fellow Workman.

Mansfield, Oreg., Oct. 1.—E. Tyson, of Seattle, one of the survivors of the burned liner Congress, was thought dying when removed to the dredge Michie and was laid on the deck unconscious. A physician bent over him and asked for a pulmator to remove the smoke and gas fumes from his lungs. No pulmator was to be had.

J. E. Johnson, chief steward of the Michie, stepped forward. He put his mouth to the mouth of the unconscious man and began drawing the poison fumes from the latter's lungs into his own. Minute after minute he labored, making of himself a human pulmator.

Suddenly Johnson staggered back all but overcome himself. But even as he did so, Tyson sighed deeply and opened his eyes. His life had been saved.

JUSTICE T. H. ANDERSON DIES AFTER OPERATION

District Jurist, Former Diplomat, Succumbs at Denver.

Dispatches from Denver, Colo., last night told of the death there on Saturday night of Thomas H. Anderson, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia. Justice Anderson, with his wife, was visiting his daughter, Mrs. Frederick T. Lilley. Death followed an operation.

With Mrs. Anderson the Justice left Washington the latter part of June and had planned to return for the opening of court on Tuesday. Mrs. Anderson will leave Denver, Tuesday and accompany the body to Washington, where it will arrive Thursday morning. Funeral arrangements have not been made, but services probably will be held Friday.

Thomas H. Anderson was born June 6, 1848, in Belmont County, Ohio. He married Miss Laura B. Augustine of Addison, Pennsylvania, in October, 1872. His education was obtained in the public schools and Mount Union College, Ohio. He was principal of the high school at Cambridge, Ohio, in 1871. In the same year he was admitted to the bar. He practiced law in Cambridge until 1883, when he was appointed Minister to Bolivia. With the conclusion of his services as Minister in 1893 he practiced law in Washington until 1899, when President McKinley, who was one of his personal friends, appointed him United States District Attorney. He served until 1901, when McKinley appointed him to the Supreme Court of the District.

Justice Anderson heard the famous Stillington-Hutchins will case, and overwork connected with that litigation is thought by friends to have shortened his life.

He was a member of the Cosmos Club, of this city, and a prominent lay worker in the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was formerly a president of the local division of the Sons of the American Revolution, a member of the board of trustees of the Metropolitan M. E. Church, the American (Methodist) University and Howard University, as well as a member of the faculty of Georgetown Law School. A book on Bolivia, published by the Bureau of American Republics, and a number of valuable reports on trade relations with the Spanish-American republics, are among his writings.

Bold Thief Has Made Two Such Robberies in Same City.
